

A show of strength

Apart from bringing in members in big numbers, the Jackson, Mississippi regional meeting also highlighted LPS's positive standing in the local community...

AN OVERWHELMING 200 member team was present at the Jackson, Mississippi Regional Meeting held on June 15, 2007 at the Quality Inn Banquet Hall. It was a pleasant meet, one marked with great weather and good food.

The meet was attended by LPS President Bhagubhai Patel, vice president DV Patel, and ex-officio Dan Patel apart from several members of the board of directors.

An encouraging 20 life members signed up in addition to a handful of annual members. The good show in numbers can be attributed to the efforts put in by vice president DV Patel as well as Gary Prema who has ceaselessly been processing the new applications.

LPS is grateful to the volunteers responsible for arranging this meet, especially Babubhai Patel and Ramesh (Roy) Patel. The meet highlighted the fact that our organisation often receives a lot of local support at its meets, not just from members, but from the community as well. President Bhagubhai expressed his gratitude towards the local volunteers during the meet and also informed the members that a detailed newsletter describing past and upcoming events of the organisation would be mailed to every one.

'I also urge you to use Leuva Connection as your magazine. Send us your ideas and suggestions not only for the magazine, but also the kind of events LPS can organise,' he added.
